County Infirmary, Operating Levies Rejected 2nd Time

Retarded Youth Tax Is Sanctioned

A levy to finance operation of the Retarded Children's School at Elkton was approved overwhelmingly at the primary election Tuesday, but voters rejected a measure to provide additional operating revenue for the county government and another that would have financed improvements at the County Home.

With only a bare majority needed for passage of each of the three countywide issues, the levy of two-tenths of a mill for operation of the school won by a margin of 3,437. The final, unofficial count showed:

For the levy 9,124

Against the levy 5,687

An eight-tenth mill levy for current expenses lost by 5,217 votes. The count showed:

For the levy 4,258

Against the levy 9,745

A seven-tenth mill levy for improvements at the county home was turned down by a margin of 1,133. The final count:

For the levy 6,797

Against the levy 7,930

The levy for the education of retarded children was submitted because the state recently gave the county the responsibility of operating the service. It had been financed previously by public contributions.

The levy, for three years, is designed to provide for the salaries of four teachers, four drivers and a janitor and for the operation of four station wagons, building maintenance, equipment for a workshop and school supplies.

Three classes for retarded children totaling 36 now operate in the public school at Elkton and the Retarded Children's Council said the need is for at least twice as many. The school now is operated under the direction of the County Welfare Department, as provided by the last legislature.

The County Health and Safety Council had urged enactment of all three levies. In connection with the operating levy, it pointed out that budget requests for 1962 were $298,000 in excess of estimated income.

It pointed out improvements were required at the County Home, particularly construction of a new hospital building.

East Liverpool's 34 precincts supported the retarded children's and County Home levies, but voted against the operating levy measure. East Liverpool gave 1,713 to the children's levy, with 994 against. On the County Home measure, there were 1,441 in favor and 1,259 against. But on the operating levy, the city cast only 1,024 favorable votes to 1,582 in opposition.

Twenty-eight Salem district precincts cast 1,772 for the children's levy, with 833 against. They showed 1,403 for the County Home levy, with 1,158 opposed. But on the current expense measure, only 833 were in favor, with 1,656 opposed.

The Wellsville district's 17 precincts cast 928 in favor of the children's levy and 494 against. They cast 772 for the County Home measure, with 686 against. On the operating levy, 501 were in favor, with 882 opposed.

County Tally On Ohio Races Is Reported

Columbiana County gave Gov. Michael V. DiSalle a boost in the Democratic primaries Tuesday to help him win renomination for a second term over Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy. A political unknown, Alexander Metrakos, trailed badly.

The count in the 165 precincts showed:

DiSalle 2,825

McElroy 2,506

Metrakos 220

In the Republican gubernatorial race, the county supported State Auditor James A. Rhodes over his opponent, William L. White.

The tabulation:

Rhodes 7,251

Pennsy, NYC Okay Merger

Union Faces Stiff Test Before ICC

By The Associated Press
The Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads turned their efforts today to persuading the federal government that their proposed merger, endorsed by stockholders of the two huge lines, was in the public interest.

The merger plan highballed through simultaneous annual meetings of the railroads Tuesday, the Pennsylvania's in Philadelphia and the Central's in Albany, N.Y. The endorsement was overwhelming.

The proposal next goes to the Interstate Commerce Commission where it is expected to face a stern test. Rail officials predicted ICC hearings beginning in mid-summer with approval of the merger by the end of next year.

The Transport Workers Union, which claims 30,000 members employed by the two lines, said in New York City the proposed "monopoly" merger jeopardizes our national safety and "threatens wholesale slaughter of railroad jobs."

If the merger goes through, the combined system—to be called the Pennsylvania New York Central Transportation Co.—would have assets of about $5 billion, 20,000 miles of rail routes, and 120,000 employees.

The merger is the largest ever proposed. The Pennsylvania has greater assets than any other U.S. railroad. The Central ranks third, behind Southern Pacific.

Alfred E. Perlman, Central president, expressed confidence the merger would win ICC approval.

The roads expect savings of more than $75 million a year to result from their union.

Last year, the Pennsylvania had a net profit of $3.5 million on an investment of $2.9 billion. The Central reported a net loss in 1961 of $12.5 million.

Perlman and James M. Symes, Pennsylvania board chairman, said the union would be part of an emerging pattern for three competitively balanced rail systems.

Besides the Pennsylvania-Central system, there would be the system developing out of the proposed consolidation of the Chesapeake & Ohio and Baltimore & Ohio, and another from the proposed merger of the Norfolk & Western with the Wabash and Nickel Plate railroads.

Under the merger plan, Central stockholders would receive 1.3 shares in the new company for each share of Central stock they hold. Pennsylvania stock will be exchanged on a one-for-one basis.

Wellsville Renews Flood Wall Levy

WELLSVILLE — One of the first flood walls erected in this part of the Ohio Valley after the disastrous inundation in the St. Patrick's Day flood of 1936 will continue to protect this community another five years.

Residents again approved a flood wall maintenance levy of half a mill, according to returns from Tuesday's primary. Renewed every time it is submitted, the levy pulled 720 votes for and 330 against in yesterday's voting.

Boyd, Smith Win GOP Contests

Weir 2nd For Commissioner

Salem Man to Face Bell For Auditor

James W. Boyd of East Liverpool won the Republican nomination for county commissioner in a three-way race and T. Emerson Smith of Salem walked away with the party's nomination for county auditor with a victory over a Wellsville woman, according to complete but unofficial returns from Tuesday's primaries.

Boyd, operator of a lumber company at Glenmoor, and Smith—salesman for an Alliance dairy concern—will run in the November general election against two Democratic incumbents who were unopposed for renomination yesterday.

Boyd won over William H. Weir of Salem RD 2, proprietor of Weir's wallpaper and paint store, and Sampel Webber, former Liverpool councilman. The count showed:

Boyd 3,318

Webber 2,035

Weir 2,690

Smith, formerly GOP county chairman, defeated Mrs. Gloria L. McElroy of Wellsville, a housewife and former pottery office worker. The totals are:

Smith 5,252

McElroy 2,628

In the Nov. 6 general election, Boyd will run against Commissioner Frank C. Wilson of Wellsville, renominated by the Democrats yesterday without opposition.

Smith's November opponent will be Auditor Kenneth Bell of Wellsville, also named by his party again without a contest. Both Wilson and Bell are seeking second terms.

There are two hold-over commissioners, both Republicans. They are Walter A. Hunston of East Palestine and Galen Greenstein of RD Salem.

Wilson received 4,590 complimentary votes and Bell was given 4,698.

The GOP-commissioner and auditor races were the only two contests on the county end of the ticket yesterday. All others were unopposed.

Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard of East Liverpool received 7,261 complimentary votes in his unopposed bid for the GOP nomination for a second term. Democrats had no candidate for the bench. Judge Buzzard will run on a non-partisan judicial ballot in the fall. The hold-over member of the county bench is Judge Joel H. Sharp, also a Republican.

Boyd carried East Liverpool's 34 precincts by a narrow margin over Webber, while Weir trailed badly. Boyd had 681, Webber 648 and Weir 124.

East Liverpool gave 902 votes to Smith in the auditor's race, against 511 for Mrs. McElroy.

Weir Gets Salem Backing
In the Salem area's 28 precincts, Weir received 1,036 votes to the 280 given Boyd and 173 cast for Webber. Wellsville district's 17 precincts cast 327 for Boyd, 139 for Webber and 91 for Weir. In the Lisbon district's 13 precincts, Boyd received 498, to 201 for Webber and 400 for Weir.

The Salineville area's six precincts showed 92 for Boyd, 37 for Weir and 52 for Weir. In the Columbiana area's 12 precincts, Boyd received 175, with 150 for Webber and 158 for Weir.

The Rogers area's four precincts cast 60 for Boyd, 39 for Webber and 20 for Weir. In the East Rochester district's seven precincts, Boyd was given 118,

Blake Defeated In 7th Term Bid

BULLETIN

Atty. Donald W. Elliott of Rogers won the Republican nomination for state senator in the four-county 20th-22nd District, it was shown about noon today when the Belmont County Election Board completed a belated count. His districtwide total was 6,939 to 4,747 for Allen Dalrymple of near Wellsville and 4,146 for Boyd Wallace of near Cadiz.

State Sen. Edmund A. Sargus of St. Clairsville was nominated for a second term in the 20th-22nd District in Tuesday's Democratic primaries, unseating Sen. Arthur Blake of Martins Ferry, who was seeking his seventh term in the upper house of the state legislature.

With returns from one county

Edmund A. Sargus

still missing in the four-county district for the GOP race for the same post, Atty. Donald W. Elliott of Rogers appeared to have rolled up a margin wide enough to assure him the nomination.

With Belmont County returns on the GOP ticket still out, Atty. Elliott was leading Allen J. Dalrymple of near Wellsville, and Boyd Wallace of near Cadiz.

Complete but unofficial returns on the Democratic state senate contest showed:

Sargus 13,002

Blake 10,074

Three of the four counties in the district gave these totals in the Republican state senate race:

Elliott 5,786

Dalrymple 3,912

County Total Vote 14,938; Off Slightly

Columbiana County's total vote yesterday hit 14,938—9,061 Republicans and 5,877. It was about 2,000 short of the predicted total of 17,000, but a steady morning rain was blamed for cutting the expected turnout.

In the last comparable primaries in 1960, the county cast 15,774 votes. In the 1956 primaries, the total vote was 12,667. And in a similar primary in 1954, only 8,200 went to the polls.

Because there were only two contests in the county end of the ticket, interest on 11 special questions and issues was credited with boosting the turnout.

In a sidelight of the voting, Wellsville Mayor William Daugherty was trounced badly, 110 to 28, Tuesday when he attempted to unseat Clarence (Red) Cartwright, former councilman, for the Democratic central committeeman's post in Wellsville's Precinct 2-B.

The County Election Board finished the unofficial count at 3:30 this morning, certifying the figures to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown. It will meet Thursday at 8:30 a.m. in its East Liverpool office to begin the official canvass of the returns.

The official canvass provides the figures that finally determine the outcome of the election and become part of the county and state records. Two, or possibly three, days will be required to complete the unofficial canvass.

To Face Rhodes In November

Renomination Bid Won by DiSalle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle won renomination in Tuesday's primary election over Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy, who waged one of the toughest Democratic battles ever seen in Ohio.

DiSalle's foe in the Nov. 6 general election is State Auditor James A. Rhodes, former Columbus mayor, who swamped his lone opponent for the Republican nomination.

McElroy, former state legislator from Cleveland, campaigned right up to poll-closing time with a slogan of "more jobs; not more taxes." He took his theme from widespread grumbling over recent high unemployment in the state and big tax boosts rammed through the 1959 legislature at DiSalle's behest while Democrats were in control.

DiSalle termed McElroy's campaign the most extensive and expensive for an Ohio primary. Multi-colored literature, press releases and statements flowed from McElroy headquarters. A flurry of radio and TV spot announcements blanketed the state over the weekend.

And McElroy hammered away at DiSalle's change of mind in foresaking a bid for renomination last Oct. 20 only to change his mind and announce Jan. 12. That was barely a week after President Kennedy attended a big birthday party here for the 54-year-old DiSalle.

A third Democratic candidate, Alexander G. Metrakos of Cleveland, and Rhodes' GOP opponent, William L. White of Mount Vernon, received token votes.

Rhodes, known as a hard campaigner, lost the 1954 gubernatorial race against Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche, now U. S. Senator. Lausche went on to become Ohio's only five-term governor before going to Washington.

Lausche, the former Cleveland judge and mayor, displayed his vote-getting prowess by swamping two Democratic opponents for the U.S. senatorial nomination. They were Albert T. Ball of Cleveland and Raymond W. Beringer of Toledo.

John Marshall Briley of Toledo, who quit as a business executive to make his first bid for public office, won the GOP Nomination and the right to face Lausche. Briley, former chairman of the Ohio Republican Finance Committee, defeated three challengers. They were Summit County Prosecutor John S. Ballard of Akron and State Sen. Charles E. Fry of Springfield, the runner-up, and Ross Pepple of Lima.

Robert Taft Jr. of Cincinnati, son of the late U.S. Sen. Robert A. Taft, won the Republican nomination for congressman-at-large handily over State Sen. Lowell Fess of Yellow Springs, son of the late U.S. Sen. Simeon D. Fess.

Taft's Democratic opponent capitalized on a popular name to win nomination. He is Richard D. Kennedy, real estate dealer who cut his political teeth in unsuccessful bids for state senator in 1958 and for mayor of Cleveland the following year.

Only four Ohio congressmen had opposition in the state's 23 districts and all won handily.

The voting cut a field of 68 candidates for statewide elective offices to 22. Results of major contests included:

Lieutenant Governor — Democrat, John J. Gallagher, Cleveland businessman, over Ohio House Minority Leader James A.

Lisbon Levies Win Approval

Village, School Tax Plans Voted

LISBON — Residents here were generous in Tuesday's primary, approving a 3-mill levy for current expenses of the village and a combined school district levy totaling 16 mills.

According to complete but unofficial totals, the village levy passed with more than 200 votes to spare—it required only 51 percent for approval. The vote:

For the levy 648

Against the levy 403

The school levy received even a better majority:

For the levy 904

Against the levy 528

The village levy was submitted for the fourth time, beginning in 1960 when expenses started exceeding income. The levy will produce about $18,000 annually, helping make up the deficit that followed transfer of State Highway Patrol cases from mayor's court to the County Court system.

Council recently investigated the possibilities of a village income tax—in case the levy had failed.

The Lisbon Exempted School District's combined levy represents a renewal of existing levies that all expire Dec. 31. The sev-

8.5-Mill School Tax Endorsed By 542 Votes

.5-Mill Park Issue Slips Through by Narrow Margin

Salem and Perry Township voters endorsed the 8.5-mill Salem School District renewal levy by a margin of more than 500 votes, and city residents also sanctioned the .5-mill park renewal tax in a close tally Tuesday in primary supported the 2-mill county retarded children's levy and the .7-mill County Home levy.

However, they rejected the .8-mil county operating levy by an almost two-to-one count.

The tabulation on the city school levy was:

For 1,568

Against 1,026

The park tax slipped through by a count of:

For 1,118

Against 1,024

Both levies, which will be in effect for five years, needed only bare majorities for passage.

City and township residents approved the retarded children's levy by a better than two-to-one majority. The tally was:

For 1,772

Against 833

The tabulation on the County Home tax was:

For 1,403

Against 1,158

The vote on the county operating proposition was:

For 833

Against 1,656

The Republican vote greatly exceeded the Democratic turnout in the city and township, 1,585 to 950. In addition, 102 non-partisan ballots were counted.

The easy passage of the school levy surprised many election observers, despite its endorsement by most of the city's service and civic clubs. Extensive publicity campaigns waged in its support by school personnel, the Salem School Citizens Committee and the League of Women Voters contributed considerably to its passage.

The levy was approved in all city and township precincts except four, 3-A, 3-B, 4-H and 4-J.

Prior to the primary, it had been expressed in some quarters that because of the county property reappraisal program, which will be placed in effect next year, and the publicity attending a similar appraisal in Mahoning County where real estate taxes soared as a result, most county and city levies and bond issues were doomed to defeat.

Teachers Will Get Raise

City teachers will receive salary increases next school year as a result of the levy's endorsement. The Board of Education voted Monday night to boost salaries $100 to $250 annually, depending upon their years of college training, if the tax was approved.

The school tax, which provides 26 per cent of the system's operating funds, yields $390,000 annually. The levy is a renewal of a 4.5-mill tax and 4 mills of an emergency 4.5-mill tax which was first passed in 1960 and reduced to 4 mills in 1961.

The park levy produces about $18

Returned to Hunger-Ridden Homeland

Thousands of Red Chinese Rounded Up In Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP)—Hong Kong police and British troops have rounded up thousands of refugees from hunger-ridden Red China in recent days and returned them to their Communist homeland.

Overcrowded Hong Kong doesn't have room for them. Other non-Communist nations won't take them.

Some had endured almost incredible hardships in their futile flight by land over rough terrain or by sea crammed below the decks of smuggler junks.

Border patrols caught many as they hid in the underbrush-covered hills on the Hong Kong side of the border.

Others were trapped aboard junks or picked up on side roads as they tried to make their way to the crowded cities of Hong Kong and Kowloon.

They were gathered at a police camp in the closed border area, fed, given some food to carry, and then returned to border crossing stations in police vans and trucks. Their fate, after their forced return to Red China, is unknown.

Government officials refuse to say how many illegal immigrants have been returned. The conservative English-language Morning Post, quoting sources close to the police, said several thousand had been forcibly returned to China in the last week.

Since 1948, the year the Chinese Communists mounted their final drive to seize control of the mainland, more than a million refugees have crossed the China border into this tiny British colony.

Most of them—and their children born since then—are still here. No other nation has been willing to accept them in significant numbers.

Hong Kong's population—600,000 at the end of World War II—has swollen to nearly 3.5 million. The colony has an area of only 391 square miles.

Government officials say the colony no longer has the capacity to care for the natural increase of its present population—91,000 more births than deaths in 1960—and the 10,000 or more refugees who try to sneak into the colony every month.

Resignations Submitted by Four Teachers In Lisbon

LISBON — The Board of Education Tuesday night received resignations from four teachers. They are:

Mrs. Patricia Fleming, elementary; Mrs. Mary Gee, kindergarten; Mrs. Betty Strabley and George McFarland, high school.

Mrs. Tillie Mugridge was hired as a checker at the McKinley School cafeteria.

Board members opened bids for two new school buses but did not award contracts, informing the dealers that they wished to study the bids before they decided.

Bids were received from the Lehman Garage, $6683; O. S. Hill, $6882; Midway Motors, $6887.50; Lewis Chevrolet, $7087, and Lytle Ford, $7326.

Vice-president Edwin Kauffman reported on land procurement for the playground at McKinley School. He said the board has purchased property and land from Esther Stackhouse, Clyde Freeman and were in the process of buying some land from the Methodist Church.

The board authorized the purchase of one new IBM electric typewriter for McKinley School at a cost of $325, approved repairs to the high school gymnasium roof and discussed building a new shower room at Lincoln School and proposed improvements in the vocational shop.

Supt. Russell Armitage told the board that the Ohio Edison Co. is replacing a washer and two ranges in the home economics room at no cost to the school. He also received approval of the board to have teachers either take the Mantoux tuberculosis tests or chest X-rays in the even years.

Raymond Glausser, custodian, was present and asked why his salary hasn't been increased. The board said he should take the matter up with Supt. Armitage.

Bills of $39,756 were ordered paid. The board's next meeting will be June 12 at 8:30 p.m.

Another Kennedy supporter, State Rep. L. B. Vocelle, made it into a runoff election with former State Sen. John A. Sutton in the 11th District.

Ex-Sen. Pepper Wins Decisive Primary Victory In Florida

By The Associated Press

Former Sen. Claude Pepper of Florida and Robert Taft Jr., son of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, won decisive primary election victories Tuesday in their bids for Congress.

Two other Florida candidates, Sen. George Smathers and Rep. Dante Fascell, also won Democratic renomination. Like Pepper, who was a staunch New Deal supporter in the '30s and '40s, they had strongly endorsed President Kennedy's program and had received the President's blessing.

Results of the voting in five states included:

OHIO—Sen. Frank J. Lausche and Gov. Michael V. DiSalle won Democratic renomination. A man named Kennedy—real estate man Richard D. Kennedy—led a field of 11 Democratic candidates to see who will oppose Taft in the November race for congressman-at-large.

INDIANA—All 11 incumbent congressmen were renominated.

WEST VIRGINIA—All six incumbent congressmen were renominated.

NEW MEXICO—Two Democratic state legislators were locked in a battle for the right to oppose Republican Gov. Edwin Mechem's bid for a fifth term; two Democratic congressmen renominated.

The Florida primary drew the most interest.

Sen. Smathers had little trouble in disposing of Roger L. Davis of Fort Lauderdale and Douglas R. Voorhees of Miami in his bid for a third term.

Fascell had a hard campaign with conservative State Sen. David Eldredge but came out on top. The Miami congressman has been Kennedy's most consistent supporter among the Florida delegation.

Women Make Welsh Rabbit

taff side — one we tried recently and that our man-tasters approved.

Welsh Rabbit

2 tablespoons butter, 4 cups (1 pound) grated cheddar cheese, ½ cup ale or beer, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, ½ teaspoon dry mustard, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon tabasco sauce, Paprika.

Melt the butter and cheese in a double-boiler or chafing-dish top over hot (not boiling) water. Gradually stir in the ale and cook only until smooth and hot. Stir in the Worcestershire, mustard, salt and tabasco.

Sprinkle with paprika. Serve over toast. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

The Toast

A great American chef and writer opined, years ago, that "most of our restaurants cut the Welsh Rabbit toast too thick and only spots, or lines, leaving the center scorch the surface of the slices in moist and soggy. The more healthful results are obtained by drying the bread in the oven and allowing it to remain there until quite brown."

Take a lesson, you lady Welsh Rabbit cooks. If your electric toaster doesn't turn out dry enough toast, put it in the oven.

Like to depart from the traditional occasionally at the family table? Try fresh strawberry shortcake with commercial sour cream instead of the usual plain or whipped heavy cream.

Ham-Onion-Broccoli

Here's a casserole packed with flavor plus protein, vitamins and other valuable nutrients. So it's good from every dinnertime consideration.

HAM-ONION-BROCCOLI CASSEROLE (6 Servings)

1 pound fresh broccoli, cut up, or 1 package frozen cut-up broccoli, 1 cup cubed cooked or baked ham, 1 cup drained whole onions, (8-ounce can) 2 cups medium white sauce, 2 teaspoons dry or prepared mustard, ¼ cup grated cheddar cheese, 1 cup unsifted all-purpose flour, 1½ teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 2½ tablespoons vegetable oil, 1-3 cup milk.

Heat oven to 425 degrees F. (hot). Cook broccoli until just slightly tender. Drain. Mix with ham and onions in 1½-quart baking dish. Make white sauce. Add mustard and cheese; stir until cheese is melted. Pour over ham-broccoli mixture. Place in oven while making biscuits.

Stir flour, baking powder, salt and parsley together. Pour oil and milk into measuring cup but don't stir. Pour all at once into flour mixture. Stir only until well blended. Take baking dish from oven. Drop biscuits by table-spoonfuls onto hot mixture in baking dish. Bake 25 to 30 minutes.

KSU Courses Here Real Opportunity

Establishment of the Kent State University Extension Center here next September will provide a golden opportunity for high school graduates throughout the district.

Because the Kent classes will be conducted at night, high school graduates may be able to hold down regular jobs in the daytime and study at night for two years of college work. Class attendance two nights a week will be required, but students who attend four nights a week can carry 14 to 16 hours of course work each quarter. On this basis, two full years of college work is possible in the two years. Persons with college work from other accredited institutions will be privileged to transfer to the local Center.

Salem has had its trades class program for many years, a valuable vocational program that has now become the full-blown Salem Technical School. This, coupled with the Kent State Extension Center, focuses anew the progressive steps that are being taken in education beyond the high school level.

We only hope that the interest of Kent State and local school officials in making the programs available is matched by a desire by students for the additional education so many of them need. The Kent program won't open until September, but it's not too early to start thinking about registration.

Long-Range Confidence

From the Wall Street point of view this week's public hearings of the Securities and Exchange Commission will come at a sensitive moment. Stocks have been hit hard recently.

Observers cannot agree on the reason, other than the fact stocks in general had been getting out of line with earnings. Investors have had to choose between a problematic return in dividends and a sure return on government-insured bank deposits.

Part of the market slump could be traced to the SEC's sweeping study of the country's securities markets.

PART OF IT could be traced, too, to various anti-inflation measures. The latest of these came May 1 when the Federal Reserve Board required member banks to demand 70 per cent collateral when lending to money lenders. SEC rules require that investors put up 70 per cent of the purchase price of stocks, but some had been bypassing the requirement by getting their money from lenders.

The securities study got under way after a series of scandals in 1961. Congress voted SEC $750,000 and a broad mandate for an investigation of securities trading. The probe up to this time has been by questionnaires and private question-and-answer sessions. This week will bring the first public hearings.

Meanwhile, there has been a general tightening up of regulation. New tough rules on advertising went into effect the first of the year. The National Association of Securities Dealers has been stiffening control of the over-the-counter market.

THE LONG-RANGE effect of the study will be beneficial. It will have the same effect that the reforms of the '30s had. More investors will be encouraged to enter the securities market in the belief they are fully protected against the risks of being out-manuevered in a game they do not fully understand.

The securities market is, after all, the backbone of the people's capitalism that has become this country's unique resource in the battle to preserve individual freedom.

Anything that adds to the confidence of investors thus becomes a plus factor in popular psychology. By the same token anything that undermines popular confidence subtracts from the willingness of outsiders to intermingle with the professionals who spend all their time and earn all their livelihood by their expert understanding of the securities market.

How Specific Could It Be?

One of the curious aspects of the windy legalism that southern filibusterers practice when the issue of civil rights for southern Negroes is the issue is their stubborn claim that states have exclusive rights over qualifications for voting.

Legalistic hair-splitters who talk this way never take the trouble to add that all state laws governing the vote must be in harmony with the Constitution, like all other state laws.

And they avoid reference to two statements in the Constitution that specifically bar the kind of state laws that keep Negroes from voting by setting up barriers enforced against no other race.

This statement appears in the XIV amendment:

"No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States."

In the XV amendment, this statement appears:

"The right of the citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude."

No amount of legalistic hair-splitting can divert attention from the fact that states which make laws abridging the privileges of any citizen or group of citizens are violating the Constitution.

Yet the hair-splitters have created an impression over the years that what they are doing has a legal basis and that somehow it's the federal government violating the Constitution by measures to enforce it.

It's Cleanup Time

City trucks have completed the annual task of hauling away loads of trash—the winter's accumulation—from homes where tidy citizens were suffering from spring clean-up fever.

This "disease" gets progressively better. Next comes fix-up and paint-up time and if every person will take enough pride in his personal surroundings we can make Salem one of the nicest, neatest looking communities in Ohio. It requires 100 per cent cooperation.

What's This Public Interest They Wanna Regulate Us In

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

During an off-the-record speech by John Lewis in San Francisco once, the late movie star Edward Arnold whispered to me, "With your influence you could get Dave Dubinsky to sew up a pair of Lewis-type eyebrows and I could play him in the pictures."

I quietly passed on the gaffe to "D.D.", the ladies' garment union chief, who quipped satirically that such eyebrows were in the men's clothing line and out of his jurisdiction.

Eddie Arnold is gone. But there are lots of glamor names around in the leadership of the Screen Actors Guild who may get their chance to move in on real live unionizing — not play acting.

They may be asked to lend their fame to mass meetings once the AFL-CIO, led by Walter Reuther's organizing team, kicks off its make-or-break pilot experiment in new organizing techniques in the vast new industrial complex now surrounding Hollywood.

LABOR'S "GLAMOR" could get its first chance next Labor Day. That's the target time in the target area — Los Angeles — which could well become in '62 what Pittsburgh and Detroit symbolized in '37.

If labor's central headquarters in Washington, D. C., can get rolling in time, it will kick off its drive on Sept. 3rd. It would like to do this with an open-air mass meeting to which will be called the 5,000 men and women who are full-time union officials in the Los Angeles area.

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, and Reuther would address them. The five thousand will be the "army of organizers" on whom the national AFL-CIO organizing Department under John W. Livingston — a former United Auto Workers official — will depend for manpower in the drive to sign up between 900,000 and a million new members.

If this pilot drive fails, labor will have had it as far as ever again enrolling new millions.

If it succeeds, the same coordinating technique will be used in four or five other target areas such as New York and Chicago. If these succeed, the organizing teams under Reuther's national direction and Livingston's site-by-site generalship, will head south.

Special reports by labor's researchers reveal that the lowest percentage — 4 per cent — of total possible unionists exists in North and South Carolina. The highest is in the State of Washington, with 52 per cent.

OPERATION Los Angeles has been a long time coming. Some years ago Reuther's people met in New York. They had surveyed five target areas.

They chose Los Angeles because it was and is the swiftest growing industrial community in the world.

There are thousands of machine, electronics and allied shops.

Typically, a few engineers would set up a research and development office. Then they'd go into producing what they had invented or developed.

They hired and hired and grew like Topsy. They became the feeder plants for some $6 billion worth of defense production there, according to the survey.

Reuther's Industrial Union 'department tried to unleash an organizing drive there. It folded. So did the attempt of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

To Reuther the answer was a nationally coordinated unionizing drive. George Meany agreed and appointed him head of the AFL-CIO Organizing Committee.

Reuther conferred with other union chiefs. They were as enthusiastic about centralized organizing as a penguin is about a hot steam bath.

Reuther went to Meany and resigned. Meany refused to accept this. He threw his weight behind Mr. R.

At the high command session last week the AFL-CIO chiefs came out with a new plan. They had studied reports on the Los Angeles area. They had figuratively cut the vast district into five employment sectors.

THESE ARE metal manufacturing and fabrication; soft goods industries; service fields; food and drink and processing and distribution of same; and federal, state and municipal civil service.

In the coming months, Meany will invite leaders of unions in each grouping to a national AFL-CIO conference in Washington, D.C. They will go over the field plan by plant. They will decide which factory will go to what union. If there is disagreement on some they will be put aside for the moment.

Then the unions will be asked to get up an organizing war chest. This will be used to open a district-industry sector coordinating office in Los Angeles. A special director will be put in charge. He will be able to draw on the pool of 5,000 full-time union officials and organizers in and around that city.

The stakes are big, as they once were in Detroit and Pittsburgh. But the people are different. In '37 they were mostly blue collar. Today the drive is to sign up the engineers, the technicians, the white collar people. There will be noise and publicity. The nation will watch this make-or-break drive.

Tax Cut Strategy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Administration Ponders Best Time for Action

Talk of a general revision of tax rates is being renewed in administration circles. The objective is to spur the economy and bring about an actual increase in tax receipts.

The basic principle of tax revision is sound. The federal government is confronted today with a sluggish economy. Wage rates are rising, and the administration either is unwilling or feels it has no power to restrain such increases. It isn't too hopeful either that it now can keep prices stable in view of the fact that the fiasco in steel has been followed by wage-increase demands in other industries.

By turning to the tax problem, therefore, a feeling is developing that a solution to the whole fiscal situation may be found. Uncle Sam has the biggest stake in encouraging the earning of more tax money. Whatever stimulates interest in better plant and equipment not only can ultimately increase tax receipts but can result soon in a general improvement in business and larger and larger employment rolls.

Latest figures on the overall situation, derived from government data on the national economy, tell a sensational story. They show plainly that the profit picture needs to be carefully analyzed by the administration if it wants some day to balance its budget and create a surplus out of which to pay off its debt.

Thus, comparing the average of the years 1934 through 1957 with the average of 1958 through 1961, national income in the United States is up 19.6 per cent. Sales by corporations are up 18.7 per cent.

The pay of corporation workers is up 18.9 per cent.

But the stark fact which stands out is that, despite all these increases, corporate profits after taxes show a rise of only 3.3 per cent.

The comparison is worse when it is based on the percentage of national income. The total pay of all corporation employees as a proportion of the national income has actually dropped. It was 43.7 per cent from 1954 to 1957, and 43.5 per cent from 1958 to 1961. Even more discouraging is the fact that corporate profits, figured in terms of national income, are down by 12.7 per cent in the 1958-1961 period as compared with the previous four-year average.

Corporate tax receipts, moreover, dropped 1.5 per cent in the last four years compared with the preceding four years.

This means that, despite all the talk of national output increasing, there has been in practical effect a retardation of the whole economy. The country isn't "moving ahead" as the politicians predicted.

THE DOWNWARD trend may explain the steady decline in stock market prices of about $36 billion from mid-December to April 30. Investors who had been hoping to see a steady increase in earnings finally have become skeptical.

High tax rates are the basic cause of the lag in business development in the last few years. They have also failed to produce more revenue for the government.

The Treasury could collect more money eventually with lower tax rates than it does today with higher rates. Temporarily there would be a drop-off covering about 18 months of a transition period but the boom would be felt almost immediately in many lines of business, because planning for expansion would start at once in various kinds of enterprises, especially in the heavy-goods field.

The administration's economic advisers and Treasury officials have been debating the best way to use tax changes as an incentive. The so-called 7 per cent credit for new equipment isn't favored by businessmen generally, because it may prove to be a temporary measure and it applies only to new equipment. It doesn't take care of all phases of modernization and all the items usually covered in the building of plant facilities.

WHAT IS FAVORED, on the other hand, is a prompt revision across the board of all the rates of depreciation so that business can at least make five-year plans.

Within the last few days the secretary of commerce, Luther H. Hodges, has talked about tax-rate changes if the budget can be balanced. But, unless there's some check on government spending, the fiscal picture will not improve and tax receipts will not save the day.

What is being suggested by some administration officials is that the top rate in personal income taxes be reduced from the 91 per cent level to somewhere around 65 per cent, corporation taxes be cut from 52 per cent to 49 per cent, and income taxes in the lower brackets also be revised downward.

Up to now there has been talk that something like this might be prepared as a gimmick for the 1964 political campaign. But if America is in the throes of a recession in 1963 and 1964, tax revision would not come in time to help the Kennedy administration.

That's why the idea of taking action in the session of Congress beginning in January 1963, but announcing it this summer, is gaining ground inside the administration as much the better political strategy.

Vernal Ritual

By TRUMAN TWILL

As far as I'm concerned, those places where they wash cars automatically in less time than it would take me to find a sponge are one of the seven most important things in the Automobile Age.

It's of no importance that I never patronize them—well, almost never. I did take my compact to one once but felt so embarrassed when the little thing couldn't spraddle the apparatus that I never went back.

Ever since I've been washing it in my own minuscule version of the great American ritual known as "washing the car." You can bet on it, this will baffle archeologists someday when they will try to understand the ritual.

They will get it mixed up with symbolic ablutions to cleanse the human spirit — and in part it is. People actually do wash their automobiles to make themselves feel good.

They look on it as part of their celebration of springtime. It's a substitute for the carryings-on that once went with that exciting female of mythology, Eostre, the goddess of springtime—the one we named Easter for.

Like most rituals, we don't understand the significance of what we do, but we plug away at it, carrying on the ritual from decade to decade and generation to generation like good fellows.

We connect the hose, symbolic of the eternal flow of refreshing life from the well-springs of nature. Then we roll up our pant legs, if any, and our sleeves if they're in the way. This shows we are getting ourselves into a solemn mood befitting the grave thing we are about to do.

Tenderly, oh so tenderly, we squirt water on the object of our devotion. We caress it fore and aft, top to bottom, with sacrificial lutions, to cleanse it and make it whole again.

We turn it inside out, to bring into the clean air all the soggy accoutrements that represent the comfort it gave us through the long, bleak winter — the odoriferous cushions, the muddy mats, the cluttered corners and dusty crevices. We empty its trays and cupboards. We wipe the smear off its instrument panel, and feel a warm glow when it smiles back at us in sparkling gratitude.

Finally, our ritual is over. We have performed what we had to perform. We have paid penance for months of motion, through snow, mud, sleet.

The ritual grows more elaborate as it grows more remote from its origin, which archeologists may be able to trace to greasing the wheels of the family buggy so everything would go smoothly on a date — you know, a symbolic gesture — the kind of stuff archeologists dream up when they can think of no better explanation. Ah Estre! You pixie, you.

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

I remember, I remember
When people got along;
(It didn't seem unusual
And took no effort strong);
There were few signs of hatred and
No widespread yens to fight
And folks engaged in rioting
Were not considered bright.

I remember, I remember
When peace was quite okay
And no one asked at breakfast, "Well,
What wars are on today?"
When guns were used for hunting
And bombs were thought to be
For July Fourth observance
Of peace and liberty.

I remember, I remember
When people liked life here,
And sought no visit to the moon
To hit it front or rear;
When no one asked "Where's Junior gone?"
I've not seen him today
And wasn't told "He's on a trip
Up through the Milky Way."

I remember, I remember

When violence was rare
And one cop with a nightstick
Brought order anywhere;
When people spoke of "fall outs"
As friendships seemed to crack,
And "shelters" were but places
Beside the trolley track.

FORTY-NINE Nobel Prize winners had reception at White House, which is okay unless losers demand equal time.

Some of the world's keenest minds were present, but we understand quite a few forgot to set their watches for daylight saving.

One famed atomic bomb scientist went to the White House dinner almost directly from anti-test picket line. He felt okay, except his feet hurt.

Remember away back when it was considered foolish to be in debt?

John S. Burke, New Yorker, who died the other day, was an Irish boy who went direct from college to a job with one of the nation's Jewish merchant princes and became president of company, without a single conflict over race or creed during span of half century. He never held a job with any other company than B. Altman's of New York.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: About that man who had to sleep on the lumpy couch because he accidentally called his wife by his secretary's name — honestly! Our society is becoming so psychological-ly oriented that every innocent phrase takes on deep significance. A person can't hiccup any more without someone's wondering what it means.

A man who calls his wife by his secretary's name may well be innocent. My mother had five children. She was forever calling me by my older sister's name. She called my younger sister by my name. And she called my brother Richard, which was my father's name. A psychiatrist could have a ball with THAT one.

The very morning I read your column about the mixed-up names, my boss called me by HIS wife's name. I know good and well he wasn't thinking about this wife. The old goat has three girl friends that I know of. — DOWN WITH SIGMUND.

Dear Down With: I agree there are too many people who read one paperback book on psychology, then go in for do-it-yourself psychoanalysis.

A man who calls his wife by someone else's name should not be banished to the couch for unfaithfulness. The slip of the tongue could mean something, true enough — but it could mean nothing, too.

Unpaid Balance

Dear Ann: Mr. and Mrs. J. were pleasant and friendly. We spent many social evenings together. The Mrs. J. said, "Let's go in together and buy a wedding gift for Katherine." So I made the selection, charged the gift ($22) on my account and sent the gift with our joint signatures on the card.

We both received thank-you notes, and Mrs. J. allowed as how she was pleased that I'd taken the load off her mind. I reminded her that it was reasonable, too — only $22. She said, "I'll mail you a check for my share."

That was five weeks ago. It occurred to me that I am a chump. My husband says, "Skip it and learn your lesson. Don't go in for any more joint gifts with Mrs. J." Is he right? My blood comes to a slow-boil when I think of how I shopped for two hours to find just the right gift and then paid for HER share, too. Any comment?—BILKED.

Dear Bilked: Your husband is only half right. You shouldn't go in for any more joint gifts with Mrs. J. But I don't agree that you should "skip it."

Drop Mrs. J. a note in the mail and remind her of the money she owes you. If the note fails to produce results it's probably a lost cause, and your lesson will have cost you $11.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Now the Women Don't Walk There Anymore

STEBUNVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Fire Chief Ralph A. Lonnetto made a public announcement Tuesday to let the women of Steubenville know that his men are not responsible for those wolf whistles near the South Street fire station.

The chief investigated after receiving a number of complaints from women who said they were whistled at when they passed the station.

The whistler turned out to be a myra bird, the pet of a resident across the street from the fire station. The myra is a bird that only whistles but can be taught to talk as well.

Empire of Disarray

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—If cleanliness is next to godliness, most people this time of year are rubbing elbows with heaven.

Now is the time when housewives at home and bosses in the office go on their annual spring tidying up spree.

I hate this seasonal emotional binge because it threatens the lifetime of considered disorder I have let pile up on my desk—my empire of disarray.

One by one the messengers of order—from buck private to vice president—ride up with the query: "Everybody else has cleaned up his desk, so why can't you? Aren't you getting tired of playing the role of an indoor Huck Finn?" The answer is a firm "No!"

The urge to a uniform office cleanliness is just one more form of hysteria in a mad world, a succumbing to universal brainwashing and the fear of being found out to be different.

Any coward can clean off his desk and make it look as anonymous as everybody else's desk. But it takes courage to give your desk the stamp of your identity. My theory is this: I don't feel like everybody else—or anybody else. Why shouldn't, therefore, my desk share this liberty? Why should it be a shining zero, undistinguishable from the rows of gleaming desks around it?

A desk that is always neat is like a person who always has his hair combed—clean but suspiciously unhuman. What emptiness of dream is all that polished perfection hiding?

A face and a desk—so runs my reasoning—both should reflect a personality and show a lived-in look.

Naturally this attitude ends up by making a man an unwilling rebel. If you enjoy having a desk that looks like a quarter section of a city dump, you have to fight the forces of office order to keep it that way.

I don't have a sign saying "Think!" on the wall behind me. I have signs saying, "Don't throw it away" and "Beware of creeping cleanliness."

My favorite office hero is the late Kansas editor, William Allen White, whose famous roltop desk was perhaps the most disorderly in the history of American journalism. White's theory was that when a pile of mail became too high and toppled to the floor it was time to pick it up, open the envelopes—and then respond to the letters that really required an answer.

This simple labor-saving device enabled the justly renowned edi-

NON-FICTION

HOUSE OF THE 10,000 PLEASURES by Sara Harris. A journalist who has had training in sociology tells the story of the Geisha and the streetwalker in modern Japan by means of the narration of lives of two Japanese girls. Since much of the disturbance in present-day Japanese family life is due to the U.S. occupation forces, for one reason or another, we should be interested in a book of this kind.

WHERE THE STATES STAND ON CIVIL RIGHTS by Richard Barnett and Joseph Garai. A state-by-state alphabetical listing of state laws and customs regarding the attitude toward Negroes in these fields: Voting, education, employment, housing, public accommodations and interracial marriage.

C.I.A., THE INSIDE STORY by Andrew Tully. A prize-winning reporter gives an account of many activities of the Central Intelligence Agency, the most secret of our government departments. It makes exciting reading.

HISTORY OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES by George B. Galloway. This history tells how some of the practices in Congress began, how its structure has changed through the years, how Party government functions in the House, and something of and the President. The author is the relations between Congress a well-known authority in this field.

MERCHANTS, PILGRIMS AND HIGHWAYMEN by Herman Schreiber. A history of roads - why and how they were built, where they coincide with modern roads, what sort of vehicles traveled on them, and much besides of interest to the student of history or the person who is just curious about the past.

HAS MAN A FUTURE? by Bertrand Russell. Lord Russell presents what he considers adequate reasons for the cessation of nuclear testing and for the establishment of world government.

WHISPERING LAND by Gerald Durrell. Anyone who likes stories about animals is always eager to read a new adventure by Gerald Durrell, for he can make the most obnoxious member of the animal kingdom seem engaging. The whispering land in this case is Patagonia, where he went to collect new specimens for his private zoo on the island of Jersey.

ROAD TO MODERN SURGERY by Hugo Glaser. An overview of the advances in medicine and surgery during the past one hundred years, with a final chapter on possibilities in the near future.

TREASURY OF THE WORLD'S GREAT PRINTS, selected and presented by Stephen Longstreet. An ambitious undertaking this book of reproductions of famous prints. There are twenty-three artists represented, they are from many countries and many periods.

LIFE IN ELIZABETHAN ENGLAND by A. H. Dodd. This little book is divided into sections according to the kind of life its people lived. First is the court, the country, the town, the Church, school and college, and a section on the poor. It is illustrated with many contemporary drawings, paintings, and engravings.

PASSAGE PERILOUS by Beth Day. An account of the hijacking of the Portuguese Santa Maria, about which so much was heard at the time of its occurrence. The author made use of the official records in Portugal, also spent some time on the ship itself and interviewed many of the crew who had been aboard at the time of the hijacking.

NORMAN THOMAS, RESPECTABLE REBEL by Murray B. Seidler. Not a biography in the sense that it is a story of Thomas's personal life, but an interwoven narration of his political life and the story of the Socialist Party.

CALORIES DON'T COUNT by Edmund Teller, M.D. This book is too well known to need review, this is simply to say that it is now available at your public library.

FOR BODY-BUILDERS - two new titles GYMNASIUMS and TUMBLING, both in the Athletic Institute Series, will be welcome.

FICTION

TWILIGHT OF HONOR by Al Dewlen. The murder trial of a stolid and apparently worthless young man who has confessed to killing a man who was considered one of the Texas towns' outstanding citizens. Much of the story concerns the court-appointed defense attorney who feels it is his duty to get to the truth - which is far different than appearances would indicate.

THE CACTUS AND THE CROWN by Catherine Gavin. One might think that one more novel about Emperor Maximilian and his Empress Carlotta of Mexico was too much, but this one is well researched and interestingly told. Two of the principal characters are Americans.

I KNOW MY LOVE by Catherine Gaskin. The story of two women who loved the same man, told against the background of frontier Australia of the 1880's. It is a frontier very like our own of the same period - full of struggle, violence and greed, men and women too fighting for money and prestige.

THE FORGOTTEN SMILE by Margaret Kennedy. The people who live on Keritha, an out-of-the-way island in the Aegean, are devoted to their ageless way of life and anxious to shield its secrets from modern strangers. There are three separate stories told in this charming novel, considered by critics her best since "The Constant Nymph," which came out in the Twenties.

OF CHEAT AND CHARMER by Elliott Nugent. A first novel by the well-known actor and playwright from Ohio. The story concerns a young director who is self-made, and who has no trust whatever in his partners in the picture business. His overwork, tension and the antagonism of his partners cause him to have a heart attack. Mr. Nugent is thoroughly familiar with the background he writes about, and has done a pretty good job on this story.

RICH IS BETTER by Max Wilk. A witty and funny story about a family which becomes suddenly wealthy when the electronics firm of which the father is a member suddenly has a big upswing in the stock market.

Western:

GOPHER GOLD by Todhunter Ballard. The height of the gold mining epidemic in the West, an epidemic among the miners, and a young doctor determined to save them makes quite a combination.

For Young Adults:

THE EDUCATION OF JONATHAN BEAN by Russell Brantley. A North Carolina boy whose family are fundamentalist Baptists goes to college where social dancing is allowed - to the scandalization of the home folks.

CRAZY LEGS McBAIN by Joe Archibald. An exciting story of college football.

Centaur Failure Could Delay Carpenter's Orbital Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Radio signals and telescopic camera films were analyzed today by technicians seeking the cause of the in-flight explosion of the first Centaur high-energy space rocket.

The study was watched closely by Project Mercury officials for any clue which might force a delay of the orbital space flight of astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter, scheduled for May 17.

The 105-foot Centaur blew apart 30,000 feet above the Atlantic Ocean 55 seconds after it was fired on its maiden flight Tuesday.

The spectacular failure dealt a severe blow to U.S. plans to develop the rocket as a booster for sending heavyweights payloads into earth orbit and to the moon, Mars and Venus.

Mercury officials were concerned lest the trouble be traced to the Centaur's Atlas first stage. There were indications that the Atlas was at fault.

A similar Atlas missile in on a launching pad here being prepared to lift Carpenter into space on a three-orbit mission similar to that made by Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. on Feb. 20.

The Atlas is a complex vehicle with more than 300,000 moving parts. If the Centaur failure is traced to the Atlas system, then that part of Carpenter's booster would be checked thoroughly before a green light would be given to his space ride. Analysis of the data may take two or three days.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration had hoped for a successful first flight of the Centaur to help reduce nearly a year of frustrating delays in launching the rocket. The main problem stems from developing high-energy liquid hydrogen as a propellant for the second stage.

Controlling this tricky, super-cold fuel, which must be kept at a temperature of 423 degrees below zero to remain liquid, is the key to Centaur's extra muscle.

Once harnessed, liquid hydrogen will produce 40 per cent greater thrust per pound of fuel than chemical fuels used on present rockets like the Atlas. Centaur's second stage has two hydrogen-driven engines with total thrust of 30,000 pounds—a potent kick when ignited in the vacuum of space.

When operation, hopefully in about two years, Centaur will be capable of lifting 8,500-pound satellites into earth orbit, landing 2,300 pounds on the moon or sending 1,300 pounds to the vicinity of Mars and Venus.

Kirwan Renamed In 19th District

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The only four Ohio congressmen who faced opposition in Tuesday's primary election came through with flying colors as voters trimmed a field of 71 candidates to 47.

The victors will square off in November for the state's 23 district seats in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Successful in their first step toward a return to Washington were William H. Harsha, R-6th; Michael J. L. Sullivan, D-19th; Michael A. Feighan, D-20th; and Charles A. Vanik, D-21st.

Eighteen of the other 19 incumbents had no opposition in the primary. Of Ohio's congressmen only Rep. Gordon Schere, Cincinnati Republican, is not making a try for another term. Schere is retiring after five terms in the House.

Man Unhurt As Truck Rips Out Guard Rail

Clarence Hollis, 51, of RD 1, Steubenville, escaped injury when his tractor-trailer rig went out of control on a curve on Rt. 7, clipped off two posts and tore up several feet of guard rail about three miles south of Rogers at 9:05 a.m. Tuesday, the Highway Patrol reported.

Hollis was south-bound on Rt. 7 and went off the left side of the road on a right curve. He was cited for driving left of center. Damage to the truck was minor.

Two East Palestine drivers were involved in a two-car mishap on Rt. 170, just north of East Palestine, at 6:58 a.m. Tuesday. The Patrol said Mabel L. Bandy, 58, was attempting to make a left turn at the same time George W. Watson, 33, started to pass her. Damage was minor, the Patrol reported.

GAS TANK DRAINED

Ed Lipscomb of 346 W. Pine St., Lisbon, told police that someone siphoned $3 worth of gasoline and let the air out of one of the tires on his car while it was parked in the E. W. Bliss Co. lot on S. Broadway between 3 p.m. and 11 p.m. Tuesday.

Earl Sponseller of RD 1, Hanover, who hauls for Bliss Co., reported that someone stole a spare tire and wheel from his truck while it was parked at the Old Reliable Drive-In on E. State St. last weekend. He estimated the loss at $50.

ATTENDING MEETING

LISBON—Auditor Kenneth Bell and John Wargo of Summitville, county appraiser, were in Smithville today attending the Northeast Auditors Association meeting of which Bell is the secretary-treasurer.

Edwin Ducey and Robert Kinney, state tax commissioners from Columbus, are the guest speakers.

And Doctors Will Treat Patients Under It

JFK Says Medical Aid Bill Will Be Passed by Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy says his medical care for the aged plan will be approved by Congress and that all doctors will treat patients under it—an indirect reference to some 200 New Jersey physicians who say they won't.

Thus Kennedy obliquely joined a more direct assault on the physicians' stand launched by other administration officials.

The New Jersey physicians, from Point Pleasant Hospital and Fitkin Memorial Hospital at Neptune, signed a resolution last week saying they would refuse to treat patients under Kennedy's Social Security-financed medical plan if it passed Congress.

Kennedy, speaking Tuesday at the United Auto Workers convention in Atlantic City, said "I am confident that the great majority, in fact all doctors, will treat those who may be covered by this national program."

Also speaking before the auto workers, Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg called the resolution "a disgrace to the country."

Secretary of Welfare Abraham Ribicoff said the doctors were violating their professional oath and that the resolution was an attempt to blackmail Congress and the American people.

Ribicoff said "these doctors apparently believe it is all right for the federal government to help build the hospitals in which they practice, but that an insurance plan that would help their patients pay their hospital bills would not be good."

Dr. J. Bruce Henriksen, who initiated the New Jersey resolution, denounced Ribicoff's statement as a threat to withhold federal aid from hospitals whose doctors oppose the medical care plan.

New Jersey's six Democratic congressmen appealed to the New Jersey Medical Society to repudiate "this attempt by a small group of men to impose their will upon the elected representatives of the people."

At Point Pleasant, Henriksen said: "This thing has been twisted to make us look like a bunch of stinkers, as if we were not going to take care of old people, but that isn't true. Our fight is against the King-Anderson bill (the medical care bill) and the socialization of medicine."

Annexation, Levy Rejected In E. Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — A proposal to annex a part of Unity Township was rejected in Tuesday's primary and voters also turned down a 5-mill school levy for a second time.

The vote on the annexation ordinance was:

Yes	192
No	230

The school levy defeat was much closer:

For the levy	835
Against the levy	891

The levy, proposed for five years to provide operating funds, was defeated last November by only five votes. It was submitted for an indefinite period the first time.

The city would have annexed parts of Sections 23, 24 and 27 in nearby Unity Township, mainly to extend the municipal sewage service into the nearly residential area which has been growing with new housing.

The annexation vote was limited to residents of the affected area of the township and East Palestine and New Waterford — the two incorporated communities in the township—had no voice in the matter, according to the ruling of the County Election Board when the proposal was granted a ballot place.

The state and county health departments had watched the proposal with interest because a sewage district may now be required, along with an adequate disposal plant to serve the area. Annexation would have saved the cost of building such a plant, the Columbiana County Health Department had said before the ballot.

Investigators heard testimony Tuesday about what was called a universal fund practice of throwing "reciprocal business" to brokerage firms that sell fund shares to the public.

Eugene J. Habas, senior vice president of Hugh W. Long & Co., Inc., Elizabeth, N.J., said this often takes the form of orders to execute stock transactions stemming from changes in a fund's portfolio. In many other cases, he added, brokers which execute transactions of this sort agree to share their commissions with firms designated by a fund.

Richard H. Paul, chief counsel for the investigation, suggested the need to generate enough "reciprocal business" to keep all brokers happy might induce the fund to buy and sell more stocks than necessary. Habas said responsible people would not do this.

Reservoir Fishing To Begin Tuesday

Failure of anyone to submit a bid to operate the concession stand at Salem's East Cold Run Reservoir apparently will not prevent the Utilities Commission from opening the city's newest recreation area on schedule Tuesday.

Utilities Superintendent Aubrey Hayes indicated today that employees of the water department probably will be on hand at the lake Tuesday to issue fishing and boating permits.

The Utilities Commission is expected to re-advertise for bids on the concession stand contract. If any had been submitted, bids were to have been opened Monday noon.

Giants Nip Cards 4-3, Stretch Lead to Four Games

Mets Defeat Cubs 3-1; Dodgers, Phils Win

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

San Francisco's surging Giants march on while other National League contenders stand still—or worse. Whatever became of that multiple-team, wire-to-wire pennant race?

Taking on their closest pursuer and an old pitching nemesis Tuesday night the Giants carried away a 4-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals, boosting their lead to four games.

To gain the narrow win, the Giants had to beat Larry Jackson, who had whipped them eight straight times over a two-season span, and withstand some late Cardinal trouble. They did both on the tough pitching of Juan Marichal (5-2) and the star hitting of Orlando Cepeda, winning for the 12th time in their last 13 games.

Los Angeles counter rallied against Houston for a 9-6 decision in 10 innings, Philadelphia beat Cincinnati 6-4 and New York's Mets got out of last place for the first time in their young history and shoved Chicago into the cellar, dousing the Cubs 3-1. The Milwaukee Braves and the Pirates were rained out at Milwaukee.

The Marichal-Cepeda combination paced the Giants, with Felipe Alou and Ed Bailey chipping in with vital hits. Cepeda slugged a two-run double against Jackson (3-3) in the first inning, then he and Alou connected for successive doubles in the eighth, breaking a 2-2 tie. Bailey came through with a single, delivering what proved to be the winning run.

The Cards played long ball against Marichal, counting a homer and double by Stan Musial, a homer by Carl Sawatski and Ken Boyer's double among the five hits off the youthful right-hander. Sawatski's homer and Boyer's double came in the bottom of the ninth. Marichal weathered the uprising for his fifth complete game and the ninth in the last 11 games for Giant pitchers.

The amazing Musial, 41, with a host of records to his credit, climbed into the league batting lead with a .388 average. San Francisco's Harvey Kuenn, with 1-for-3, dropped to second at .381. The Dodgers dissipated a five-run lead against the rambunctious Cardinals but pulled it out behind the hitting of rookie Larry Burright and Maury Wills. Burright, who tripled and doubled earlier, legged out a bunt single off Bob Tiefenauer (1-1) with two away in the 10th and moved to third on Frank Howard's pinch single. Wills then crashed in the winner with his third single of the night. Two more runs scored on Dick Farrell's wild pitch and catcher Merritt Ranew's bad throw.

Reliever Ron Perranoski (2-0) was the winner.

The Dodgers pulled ahead 4-0, then 6-1 but the Colts kicked back by collecting 10 hits against Sandy Koufax and Larry Sherry, who each gave up a bases-filled walk.

Cincinnati was given one chance after another by Philadelphia's shaky pitching and defense, banging out 15 hits, drawing four walks and helped along by three Phillie errors. The telling figure was the 16 runners stranded by the Reds.

Winning southpaw Chris Short (1-1) yielded 12 hits before he was replaced in the eighth by Dallas Green, who was tagged for Frank Robinson's two-run single. Jack Baldschun took over for Green in the ninth with one on, gave up two singles, then finished with a flourish by setting down the final three batters.

Billy Klaus' two-run homer was the big hit as the Phils built a 4-0 lead against Jim O'Toole (2-4). They nailed it down with two more off Howie Nunn in the sixth.

The Mets eased out of the cellar with help from the Cubs' erratic outfield play. One New York run came in when Billy Williams muffed a pop fly for his second two-base error of the game. The Mets wrapped it up when Felix Mantilla's key single skittered through George Altman's legs.

Hook (2-1) gave up one of the four Cub hits to the first man he faced, Lou Brock, then uncorked a wild pitch as Brock went for a steal of second. He continued on to third and scored on Williams' sacrifice fly. Don Cardwell, out for two weeks with a sore arm, gave up two singles to teammate Sammy Taylor and nothing more until the sixth, when a walk, Charlie Neal's single and Williams' error produced the tying run. Two walks and Mantilla's single coupled with Altman's misplay produced the deciding runs against Bob Anderson (0-4) in the seventh.

Battle for NL Cellar Position Draws 1,396 to Wrigley Field

CHICAGO (AP)—Casey Stengel peered out of the dugout at Wrigley Field—the first time he had been there since leading his old Boston Braves against the Chicago Cubs in 1943.

"Must be a dozen fans up in the stands," said the New York Mets skipper. "Must be the cold weather. It couldn't be because the Cubs are playing us."

The opening of the three-game series—the battle of the National League cellar—actually drew 1,396 customers Tuesday. It was the smallest Wrigley Field gathering of the season.

The Cubs disappointed them by losing 3-1 as Jay Hook stifled them on four hits in his second route-going job.

Before the game, Stengel spelled-bound a large delegation of newsmen, who filed the visiting dugout as if it were World Series time.

"I just met my two new pitchers (Vinegar Bend Mizell and Bob G. Miller) and this is what I said to them: 'Miller, how many innings you pitched?' He looked at me and said: 'Three or four.' I said: 'I guess you are ready for us anyway, so now you can consider yourself one of my early starters.'"

"I said to Mizell: 'Can you pitch?' He said: 'Yes.' I said: 'OK, you pitch for us here in the last game of the series.'"

"So, you see, we all got acquainted real quick."

"Our pitching staff is really shattered and I always have a lot of re-arranging to do. Some people think I have 10 starters, but actually there are only three—Hook, Craig (Roger) and Jackson (Al)."

"And that brings me to training. We spent a lot of money getting players, and if they don't pan out after 30 or 35 days we'll get rid of some of them and may get a new batch. Any player who doesn't want to train or play for me can go to Weiss (George Weiss, general manager) or me and ask to be traded. They might go, or they might find themselves in the minors for more conditioning."

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS LIDE

The spring weather we have been enjoying thus far has been made to order for fishermen.

The weather turned warm, the water temperature raised and the fish have shown great big appetites. Not only that, but over the weekend there was a new moon adding to all signs pointing to good fishing, according to popular belief.

Unfortunately, I had to sit in a District meeting at Akron Sunday which prevented me from getting out among the fishermen to see what went on. To me, this is about like enjoying good health all during the winter months and suddenly becoming a "shut-in" when the weather really gets nice and you can't get out to enjoy it.

ONE NOTE was passed along to me. Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Colgrove of RD 3, Lisbon, took home 28 crappies ranging from 9 to 13 inches out of Lake Guilford. They threw back an estimated 50 crappies smaller than they wanted. May I suggest to all fishermen, regardless if it is a crappie, blue-

Braves' Catcher Is Impressive At Bat, Behind Home Plate

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Milwaukee catcher Del Crandall, a four-time all-star game performer sidelined most of last season with a bad shoulder, is well on his way back—both at and behind the plate.

The 32-year-old Crandall has been one of the most pleasant surprises as the Braves, as preseason contender in pennant picks, struggle along with a 10-14 record.

Despite a year of virtual inactivity because of a painful right arm, Crandall is hitting the ball as well, if not better, than ever. And base runners aren't taking any liberties when he's behind the plate.

"My arm feels right, although maybe I'm more cautious in warming up, and I feel my progress grows better and better each day," he said Tuesday.

In 14 games this season, he has collected 15 hits, including two homers and a pair of doubles, good for six RBI and an average of .333.

AFL Official Hits Player Option Rules

NEW YORK (AP)—The case of R. C. Owens playing out his option with the San Francisco 49ers, then signing with the Baltimore Colts does not worry the National Football League, Commissioner Pete Rozelle indicated today.

"We are not concerned," he shrugged. "The cases of players playing out their options are not unique."

The 6-3, 195-pound Owens, a pass catching specialist, shopped around both leagues before signing with the Colts. Presumably they made him the best offer.

"Most players prefer to stay in an area where they play and where they have roots, business associates and are active in the community," Rozelle added.

But owner Harry Wismer of the American Football League New York Titans, warning that professional football is pricing itself into bankruptcy, called for a reserve clause similar to that which keeps baseball players on one team unless they are traded or retire.

In pro football, the player merely must notify his club if he wants out of his contract. Then he plays out his option for the next season for 90 per cent of his salary, and he is free.

"The war between the leagues has boosted payrolls 25 per cent," said Wismer. "Now the tug-of-war for players inside the leagues will hike it another 15 per cent. In a majority of cases in both leagues, the players are making more than the owners."

"If Owens can do it, what is to stop Paul Hornung of the Green Bay Packers or Johnny Unitas of the Colts from playing out their options and then putting themselves on the block to the highest bidder?"

Wismer said the players are getting fabulous salaries compared with their actual value.

Joe Judge Sets New Lightweight Vault Record

Junior High Tracksters Cop 2 Wins Against E. Palestine

Joe Judge cracked a Salem Junior High lightweight record in the pole vault as the Quaker 7th and 8th grade track squads chalked up a pair of victories over their counterparts from East Palestine Junior High at Reilly Stadium yesterday afternoon.

Judge, an eighth grader, vaulted 7-10, erasing the old lightweight standard of 7-6. Seventh and eighth grade trackmen are divided by weights rather than by year in school. The cutoff between lightweights and heavyweights is 101 pounds.

SALEM'S lightweights beat the Bulldogs 54-41, while the undefeated heavyweights rolled to a 71½-32½ victory. The Quaker heavyweights now have a 4-0 record, and the lightweights evened their season record at two and two. The Salem 9th grade squad, which is also undefeated in four dual meets, will entertain the East Palestine 9th graders here Thursday after school.

In addition to Judge's record-breaking performance in the pole vault, outstanding performers for the Quakers yesterday were Rick Elliott for the lightweights and Ray Seibert for the heavies. Each accounted for 14½ of his team's point total.

ELLIOTT COPPED the lightweight broad jump at 13-7½ and the 100-yard dash at 12.9. He ran the anchor leg on Salem's winning 440-yard relay team which also consisted of Bill Kolozsi, Rice and Rhodes. Elliott picked up three more points by finishing second to East Palestine's Walt Herriott in the 10-yard low hurdles.

Other Salem firsts in the lightweight division were chalked by Kolozsi in the shot put, 30 - 10; Rick Hackett in the high jump, 4-6; and Mark Annis in the 220-yard dash, 29.8.

For the heavyweights, Seibert copped the 100-yard dash in 11.6 and the 220-yard dash in 26.5. He joined with Ron Hofman, Dorrel Catlin and Ralph Price to win the 880-yard relay in the fast time of 1:48, which is just one-tenth of a second off the Salem heavyweight record.

SEIBERT ADDED a second in the shot put, an event in which Salem swept all three places. Walt Johnson took first with a fine toss of 40-7½ and Jim Migliorini placed third. The heavyweights throw the 8-pound shot.

Price brought Salem a first in the low hurdles. His time was 6.5. Catlin copped the 50 - yard dash for the Quakers in :06.3 and came back later to win the high jump at 4-10.

Also winning for Salem were Jim Windram in the broad jump, 15-10; Mike Harry in the pole vault, 8-6; and Harold in the 880-yard run, 2:35.6.

Ron Hofman, running the 440 for the first time for Coach Bing Newton's crew, turned in a good 59.9 clocking which brought him a second place, just one-tenth of a second off the winning time of East Palestine's Gorbey.

Guilford Lake Included New Ohio Watercraft Rules Become Effective Thursday

Amended rules and regulations on watercraft operation on waters controlled by the state Divisions of Parks and Wildlife have been approved by James D. Wells, administrator of the Ohio Division of Watercraft to take effect Thursday. A public hearing on the proposed changes was held April 19 in Columbus.

Principal change on Wildlife waters is in setting a uniform standard for small outboard motors on Knox and Hocking Lakes at 3.6 horsepower, and adding the new Tycoon Lake (Gallia County) and Paulding Ponds to the list of waters where no motors are permitted.

The Division of Parks adopted regulations relating to the use of new marker buoys of the type established by the recent General Assembly on certain areas of the state park lakes; and also adopted the 3.6 horsepower limit for motors used on Guilford Lake (Columbiana County), Forked Run Lake (Meigs County), and Dow Lake (Athens County).

The Division of Parks, in another new regulation, will require 30 days prior notice in writing for permission to hold races or regattas on state park waters.

A proposal from the trustees of Hiram Township, Portage County, to forbid the use of powercraft on that portion of the Cuyahoga River lying within the township was taken under advisement at this time.

SPORTSMEN TO MEET
The Beaver Creek Sportsman Club will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday at the clubhouse. President Gene Morrow reports that final discussions will be held on the proposal for an addition to the building. Sports movies will be shown and lunch will be served.

Tribe Beats Twins 6-3, Gains on Idle Yanks

Donovan, Tasby Star for Indians

Tigers Bomb Angels In Only Other Tilt

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Cleveland General Manager Gabe Paul, a wheeling and dealing type in the Frank Lane manner but a little slower and surer before he pulls the trigger, has come up with a pair of key additions to the Indians in pitcher Dick Donovan and outfielder Willie Tasby.

The often peddled players, both acquired from Washington, carried the Indians to a 6-3 triumph over Minnesota Tuesday night that pulled second-place Cleveland to within one game of the American League leading New York Yankees.

Paul, who previously pulled the strings in Cincinnati, got Donovan in the trade that sent Jim Piersall to Washington and raised a howl from Cleveland fans. He picked up Tasby for two lesser lights in a deal that raised not an eyebrow.

But Tasby raised a couple against the Twins. The 29-year-old righty swinger who hit .251 last season, made his first start for the Indians and responded with a 2-for-5 performance, knocking in three runs, including what proved to be the clincher in a two-run seventh inning.

Donovan aided his own cause with a bases-loaded single that accounted for one run before Tasby stroked his hit for the decisive run.

Tasby's clincher provided Donovan with his fifth victory without a loss. The 34-year-old righthander, who led the AL with a 2.40 earned run average while posting a 10-10 record last season, is the first hurler in the league to win five.

Al Kaline drove in four runs with his eighth homer, a triple and a single, leading Detroit to a 10-1 triumph over the Los Angeles Angels in the only other game played. Boston-New York, Kansas City-Baltimore, Chicago-Washington were postponed due to rain.

Donovan had a 6-1 lead going into the ninth when the Twins, with a four-game win streak on the line, began to make menacing gestures. Lennie Green's homer after Berni Allen single chased Donovan. Reliever Barry Latman gave up singles to Rich Rollins and Harmon Killebrew before ending it by striking out pinch hitter George Banks. Jim Kaat (1-4) was the loser.

While Kaline was providing the hitting, Phil Regan provided solid pitching for the Tigers to snap a five-game losing skid. Regan (2-2) limited the Angels, winners of four in a row, to six hits—one a homer by Steve Bilko. Eli Grba (1-1) took the loss.

Lisbon Teacher Ties Copeland Hills Record

Bob Firestone of Columbiana, a teacher at Lisbon, tied the Copeland Hills course record set by touring Pro Ed Furgel with a sparkling 35. Firestone sank a wedge shot on the first hole, a 550 yard par 5, for an eagle 3 and finished the round in 1 under par.

Copeland Hills, a championship course, measures 3,500 yards on the front nine.

Other scores turned in over the weekend included: George Latara of Youngstown 40-38-78 the best 18 hole score of the season and Dick Koffel of Lisbon, 37.

Houk Predicts Tribe Will Remain Contender

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Manager Ralph Houk of the New York Yankees surveyed the rest of the American League from the summit today and predicted that the Cleveland Indians would remain one of the top contenders the rest of the season.

"They didn't figure high in the beginning," Houk said, "but they do now. I like those two kids in the outfield, Ty Cline and Al Luplow. They have a solid infield and John Romano is a good catcher. There aren't many better arms in the majors than Willie Kirkland's."

Then Houk laughed: "I see where Al Lopez says only his own Chicago White Sox and the Detroit Tigers might be able to stop the Yanks. Wait until he sees the Indians. He's in for a shock."

The White Sox haven't played the Indians yet. The Tribe holds down second place, a game behind the Yanks after beating the Minnesota Twins Tuesday night, 6-3.

Houk also analyzed the troubles besetting both the Tigers and the Baltimore Orioles, other would-be contenders. Both are wallowing around in the second division.

"The Tigers are having trouble in the bullpen," observed Houk. "Every time (Manager Bob) Scheffing pulls in a relief pitcher, he's in trouble. I guess that's why he sticks with his starters so long."

"Otherwise, though, it's a good ball club. If the Tigers make a deal for a relief pitcher, you'll see some improvement in them."

As for the Orioles: "All they need is time to get squared away with their pitching. They'll come on then. They've got a lot of power with guys like Boog Powell, Jim Gentile, Gus Triandos, Brooks Robinson and Jackie Brandt."

The Newlywed Cooks Fish In Foil

and pour wine around fish. Bring up long sides of foil so edges meet and make a drugstore fold; fold over open ends of foil a few times to make an airtight package.

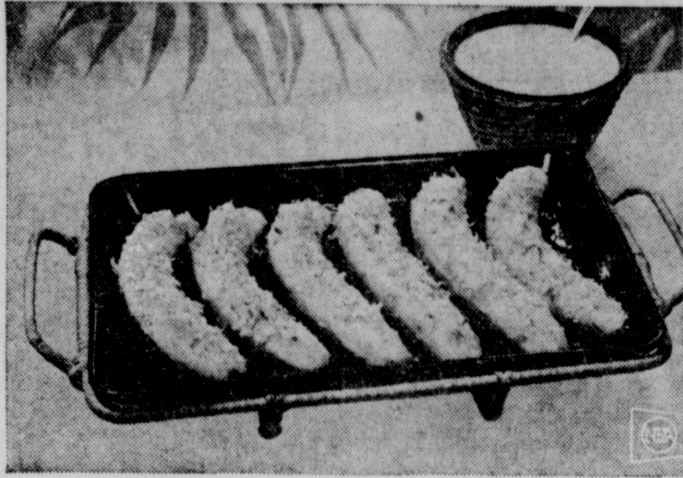

Bake (on the pan) in a hot (400 degrees) oven until fish flakes—about 20 minutes. Remove from oven; open foil; discard onion, lemon and parsley; pour off the broth in foil and reserve 1 cup.

Melt butter in a 9- or 10-inch skillet; add shrimp and cook quickly turning, until pink and opaque through; push to side of pan.

Add mushrooms and cook lightly. With a slotted spoon, remove shrimp and mushrooms and arrange around fillets in foil. Stir the flour, then the 1 cup fish broth and the cream into drippings in skillet; cook and stir until thickened; correct seasoning.

Strain sauce over fish. Crinkle edges of foil to make a "dish." Broil if necessary to reheat. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Treat Bananas Luxuriously

Montego Bay in the West Indies has more than palm trees and climate and soul-easing seascapes. You'll find excellent food, too. At the luxurious Half Moon Bay Hotel, the chefs are masters with novel banana recipes. Here is one of their specialties, popular with the international set:

Bananas and Rum (or Lemon) Sauce—Half Moon

½ cup orange juice, ¼ cup brown sugar, 6 bananas, 2 tablespoons butter, melted, 1 cup grated or flaked coconut.

Preheat oven to 400 degrees F. Grease baking dish well with butter. Mix orange juice and brown sugar together. Peel bananas and arrange in baking dish. Brush with melted butter.

Pour orange juice mixture over bananas. Spread coconut on top. Bake for 12 to 15 minutes or until bananas are tender.

Serve as dessert with Hot Rum Sauce. (If desired, bananas may be cut in half lengthwise before baking, and layered in baking dish.)

Hot Creamy Rum (or Lemon) Sauce

¾ cup milk, 1-3 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, ¼ cup milk, 1 egg, 3 tablespoons dark rum or lemon juice, ½ cup heavy cream, whipped.

In double boiler, scald ¾ cup milk. Meanwhile, in a saucepan, sift together sugar and cornstarch. Gradually blend in ¼ cup milk, stirring constantly.

Rapidly bring to a boil over direct heat, stirring gently; cook for 3 minutes. Remove from heat and stir into scalded milk in double boiler. Cover and cook about 12 minutes, stirring 3 or 4 times.

Beat egg slightly. Stir about 3 tablespoons hot mixture into egg, blend and return to hot mixture in double boiler.

Cook over simmering water 3 to 5 minutes stirring slowly but constantly. Remove from heat. Blend in rum or lemon juice and whipped cream. Serve warm.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Your small fry will appreciate that raw carrot salad if it's sprinkled with shredded coconut.

For weight-watchers: a half cup of shredded raw cabbage contains only 12 calories. Use a low-calorie salad dressing on this!

Small whole cooked carrots look pretty around a meat or fish dish. Cook the carrots in a small amount of boiling salted water for about 15 minutes to have tender-crisp.

Ever add mixed spices to the water in which you are cooking lobster tails? Good flavor, this way, when the lobster meat is to be used for salad.

Among the questions asked us by young married couples—and nowadays the groom as well as the bride is likely to be interested in cooking—there's a perennial one: "What fish dishes are fancy enough for company?"

What do we suggest? Shrimp Creole or Salmon Mayonnaise (hot or cold) is our stock answer, and new cooks usually find them foolproof. Now comes a new idea—a simple way of preparing French-style fish fillets.

In this classic dish, the fillets are poached, garnished with shrimp and mushrooms, and given a creamy sauce. The new trick is to package the fillets in foil and poach them in the oven. This delicious tasting combination may be prepared shortly before the guests arrive and be heated under the broiler.

Good crusty bread and butter should be the accompaniment along with a cooked green vegetable and, if you like, rice or potatoes. Then serve a salad and cheese course. Dessert? Have you ever layered fruit in strawberry gelatin flavored with cherry brandy?

French-Style Fish Fillets

½ pounds (8) fish fillets, 4 thin slices each onion and lemon, 4 sprigs parsley, salt and white pepper to taste, ½ cup dry white wine or lemon-flavored water, ½ pound shrimp (shelled and deveined), ¼ pound mushrooms (sliced), 6 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, ½ cup heavy cream.

Place fillets, in a double layer, on a length of heavy-duty aluminum foil placed over a shallow pan. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Top each onion slice with one of lemon and a parsley sprig; place over fish.

Turn up edges of foil slightly

The L. M. Kyes Memorial Home in East Palestine housed 179 children, providing a total of 2,398 days of care.

The department distributed 253 tons of surplus food to 35,843 persons, 2 1/2 times more food than was distributed in the previous year.

Food recipients worked 45,932 hours on county, township, villages and state park projects, Bycroft said.

in the Pacific.

The government announcement Tuesday said the device was in the intermediate yield range—equal to more than 20,000 tons and less than a million tons of TNT

The Doctor Says

By Dr. H. T. HYMAN
Guarding the Public's Health

How is the public health guarded? The Public Affairs Committee (22 East 38 St., New York 16, N.Y.) has just published a new 25-cent pamphlet on the activities of the Division of Environmental Engineering and Food Protection of the U.S. Public Health Service. Entitled "Quiet Guardians of the People's Health," the booklet describes the detailed attention given to the design and operation of the water supply and sewerage systems of dairies, ships, home trailers, schools, hospitals, restaurants and other areas.

In each instance, codes must be set up, standards established and means provided for seeing that codes and standards are strictly observed. UNFORTUNATELY, too little attention is given these and many other of the day-in, day-out public services that we are apt to take for granted such as, for example, those of the Telephone Pioneers of America, a volunteer organization of electronic experts, employees of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and its subsidiaries. Working on their own time, these dedicated citizens spend their lunch hours repairing the "talking books" supplied free to the blind by our Library of Congress. Thus, they serve some 350,000 blind persons, including 12,000 high school children and 1,200 college students. They salvage records of the thousands of titles that can be played on the record players made available to the blind by our government.
